

Lifetimes

May 2023

From the Pastor

Pastor Kai Nilsen

I'm half-way through a new book by Miroslav Wolf, Matthew Corasmun, and Ryan Mcannally-Linz, entitled Life Worth Living: A Guide to What Matters Most. It springs from a course, one of the most popular on campus, they team teach to students at Yale University.

The authors distill down the insights from the great religious and wisdom traditions, and the lives of inspiring people, to create a vision of a life worth living and then, through engaging questions, invite the readers to create their own vision.

As they talk about how we engage our lives, they describe these four movements that we can move back and forth through, each movement deepening the experience of the previous one.

- Autopilot We do what we do because that's what we do
- Effectiveness Is what we do getting us what we want?
- Self-Awareness What do we really want?
- Self-Transcendence (life is more than you) What is worth wanting?

As I reflected on those movements, I couldn't help but make a connection to churches, our church. How often do we get stuck in autopilot and continue to do what we do with little or no critical reflection? Or we spend enormous amounts of time and energy trying to improve the quality of what we do or our overall effectiveness without asking the question, "Is that the right thing to do?" Or we dig deep into ourselves (self-awareness) and find out what "I" want and expect that to happen with little regard to what might be helpful for the whole.

Finally, when do we ask the "self-transcendence" question, "What is worth wanting?" and not just for us, but from the heart of God for the sake of others.

You've often heard me say that Jesus didn't come to help us build bigger and better churches (effectiveness!); Jesus came to help us imagine and then co-create a better, more loving world (self-transcendence). A life worth living.

These are not easy questions to answer, but I know this: Our response, first, starts in the heart of God and asking what "God wants for us and our world." Then, looking closely into the heart and life of Jesus (God's visible presence), we ask, "What would a Jesus kind of life; a life of compassion, generosity, and expansive love, look like in 2023—through Incarnation, in our neighborhoods and workplaces, and in our homes?"

As we seek to put some flesh on those questions through the development of our multi-year plan for ministry, know we won't be on autopilot! But, God willing and in a Spirit-directed way, we trust that it will, as a community, help us to live, together, a life worth living!

Peace, Kai

MARCH MN FOODSHARE CAMPAIGN A GREAT SUCCESS!

On behalf of the Ralph Reeder Food Shelf Action Group, thank you for making this year's March MN FoodShare campaign a great success. Through your generosity, we donated 2,064 pounds of non-perishable items and $25,963! Thank you for your giving to help our neighbors in need.

Jim Meinen
President

Our church facility has served us well over the past decades. It has provided us a warm, welcoming, and inclusive space, an environment that has enabled us to deepen our faith and offer hundreds of programs that provide opportunities to serve, learn, and build relationships. With that said, now is the time for us to take care of our facility, which has served us so well.

We are grateful for those volunteers and staff that have recently driven efforts to redo the parking lot, replace windows, install a new sound system and upgraded our circulation system. Those projects have been a great start in maintaining and updating our church facility. However, there is still more work to be done.

The Council felt that it is time to create and implement a multi-year capital plan in conjunction with the 3-year plan. A capital plan is important because it will identify and prioritize our capital needs (facility updates, maintenance and repairs, etc.), estimate the cost of those needs and ultimately implement the projects. At the April 17th Council meeting, it was decided that a task force is needed to create the capital plan. The committee will have representation from staff, Council, and our congregation. If you have an interest in volunteering on this committee, please let me know.

With the Council's focus on the five 2023 priorities, we thought it would be helpful to report back on the progress made over the past 90 days. Some key items that have been accomplished thus far include:

- Completing two visioning workshops with staff, Council and other church leaders. This has resulted in some wonderful creative ideas on ways we can grow and strengthen our church. This is an excellent start in developing our 3-year plan.
- Formation of an task force that continues to explore ways that we can increase our communications.
- A committee of volunteers has been formed to conduct the financial audit, with hopes of completing it by July.
- Finally, through a collaborative effort with the Stewardship Committee, a joint session with Council is scheduled for May 3 to identify new ways to continue to grow our giving.

Speaking on behalf of your Council, it is an honor to serve our faith community. We are passionate about exploring ways to deepen and grow our community and ensure our sustainability. If you have suggestions, comments, or ideas, please bring them forward. Incarnation has so much potential and together, we can grow our faith community as we envision a world filled with God's grace and love.

2023 Council Priorities

1. Create a 3-Year Plan
2. Increase Transparent Communications
3. Conduct an Internal Financial Audit
4. Create Budgets with Positive Net Contributions
5. Rethink Giving

CARE OF CREATION CORNER

When you water your pets, water your plants. Rather than dump the old water from the pet bowl down the drain, put it to use. Your houseplants, garden plants, even your trees, as well as the earth will appreciate your kindness.

Confirmation Sunday, May 7

Last Fall on Reformation Sunday we welcomed 28 9th graders as members of our congregation as they Affirmed their Baptism at our Confirmation Service. Because of the change in expectations, not all 9th graders were able to make that commitment last Fall. A small group of four 9th graders has been meeting weekly throughout the school year and are now ready to Affirm their Baptism at our Confirmation Service on May 7, at 10:30 a.m. Join us in celebrating their decision to becoming active members of our church family and continue to pray for them as they take this important step on their faith journey.

Denise Haechrel, Incarnation Preschool teacher, is retiring at the close of the 2022-23 school year later this month. She has been a loving and dedicated part of the teaching staff at Incarnation Preschool for 16 years, being both an Assistant Teacher and a Lead Teacher! Denise has nurtured the growth and development of hundreds of young children over the years, showcasing her organizational skills along with her genuine love for children. She has demonstrated a willingness and flexibility to adapt to many changes as the preschool expanded, oriented new teachers, developed and implemented new policies, procedures, curriculum/assessments and even pushing through a pandemic! Denise's regular presence in the preschool will be greatly missed. We look forward to her filling in as a substitute in the classrooms on occasion. Denise is sure to be found hiking through national parks with her husband, Paul, during her retirement! Thank you, Denise!

Still Time to Volunteer and Make a Financial Contribution

The Feed My Starving Children All Hands on Hope MobilePack™ kicked off on Wednesday, April 26. We have been welcoming volunteers for the last three days and the energy is high in Incarnation Hall as we work together to pack meals which will feed 1,683 children for one year. The Feed My Starving Children Action Group is so thankful for all those who have contributed so much to this MobilePack so far! Your time, financial donations and prayers are greatly appreciated.

We are still looking for volunteers to fill shifts on Friday afternoon, Saturday afternoon, and Sunday morning, as well as clean up on Sunday afternoon. If you are able, please visit incarnationmn.org to sign up for a shift. This is a community wide event, anyone ages 5-95, with all abilities is welcome to join us. Invite your friends, neighbors, teammates, co-workers, book clubs, and anyone else you can think of to come along.

We are also still looking to achieve our goal of raising $180,000 to fund these life-changing meals. To make a donation, please visit <https://onrealm.org/IncarnationLuth/-/form/give/now>.

Let's finish strong this weekend and live out our mission of feeding the hungry in heart, body, mind and spirit.

Summer Interns Introduced

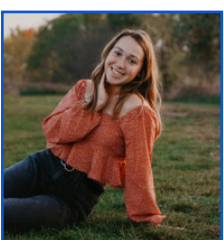

This summer, we welcome four interns. As a reminder, the intern program was established by the staff, in conversation with the Endowment Fund Committee, as one of the ways that we develop future leaders for the church and world. The summer program is fully funded by our Incarnation Endowment Fund.

Summer internships include weekly times for faith formation, one-on-one mentoring with staff, and a full immersion in our summer ministries. Here is a brief introduction from each of our interns:

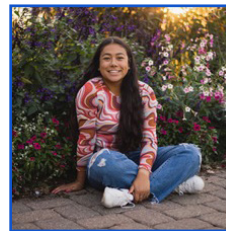

My name is Lily McCarthy! I am currently a freshman at the college of St. Scholastica in Duluth. I am majoring in english and minoring in marketing and art. I love spending time outside, downhill skiing, reading, and hanging out with friends and family. I am super excited to grow in my faith this summer and serve my faith community.

Ashlee Mortenson is a student at Bethel University studying ministry, psychology, and communications. She has been involved with the youth programs of Incarnation as a student as well as a Sunday school leader, VBS volunteer, and co-leader for a middle school mission trip to Duluth.

My name is Isabella Rodriguez and I am entering my second year at Hope College in Holland, Michigan, where I am pursuing a degree in Spanish and Women and Gender Studies. I have been attending Incarnation my whole life. I was baptized, received my first communion, and was confirmed at Incarnation. I am excited for this opportunity to explore ministry within the church I grew up in!

My name is Charlie Schwieters and I just finished my freshman year at the University of St Thomas where I am majoring in Chemistry. I used to work as a custodian for three years at Incarnation and I have been a part of leading VBS for the past six years. I love being around Incarnation and the great community of people here. I look forward to meeting you all.

Greetings from the Music Department! What a wonderful journey through Holy Week that we've had! Wonderful sermons, teachings, and music combined with full to overflowing congregational attendance - clearly God is at work in this community!

services. Grateful doesn't begin to cover it! Thanks to Lou Ann's incredible musicianship and Amy Maakestad's preparation, Lou Ann was able to jump right in and accompany all hymns, prelude with brass, as well as the main choral anthem including brass and percussion! Thank you, Lou Ann! You are such a treasured gift to this community!

I am so thankful to all who participated in the inspiring musical offerings during the last several weeks - Senior Choir, ILC Brass Group, Contemporary band, Bell Choir, as well as our friends from the greater community of musicians - all coming together to contribute to the overall worship experience. I am also thankful that we were able to have the St. Olaf Brass Quintet recently! It is inspiring to see such immense talent from our college-age demographic. I look forward to having them back in the future!

We are thrilled that Amy Maakestad is now back from the world of Covid and look forward to being graced by her many musical gifts and leadership as we head into spring!

If you, or anyone you know would like to participate in music at Incarnation in any way, please feel free to contact me by email at sturner@incarnationmn.org

I wanted to say a special "Thank You" to Lou Ann Reese for jumping in to help us on Easter Sunday for all three Wishing you all - warm thoughts of Spring and good health!

Building a Healthy, Equitable, and Sustainable Food System via the Farm Bill

As Christians, we are called to seek justice, care for those experiencing hunger and poverty, and embrace our Creator's vision of hope, love, and peace. We believe that every human being, created in God's image, has inherent dignity and should have access to sufficient nutritious food. Our U.S. Farm Bill is our most important national food system legislation. The Farm Bill impacts every single one of us. It is critical to the work of ending hunger at home and abroad.

The Farm Bill comes up for renewal every five years; it expires in fall 2023. As Congress works to renew our food and farm programs through this bill, we should be asking our legislators to support legislation that builds healthy equitable and sustainable food system. Food security and environmental sustainability are always interconnected. Future generations will have to rely on how we choose to produce our food today.

Incarnation's Hunger Awareness and Advocacy group is working with Bread for the World in urging that we, as citizens and Christians, advocate urging our elected senators and representatives to support legislation that works to ensure access to sufficient nutritious food for everyone, both domestically and internationally. This is not a political or a partisan issue; it is a moral issue. Our faith calls us to speak up with and for others.

The Hunger Awareness and Advocacy group will be staffing a table on Sunday morning, May 7, for Incarnation's 2023 Offering of Letters. Information and materials will be available to aid you in contacting your federal officials asking them to build a healthy, equitable, and sustainable food system through the Food Bill. Stop by and be a part of our advocacy together through a variety of means - - letters, emails, phone calls, tweets, and more.

Sample letters and a link for email are available at: <https://www.bread.org/wp-content/uploads/2023/02/OL-Sample-Letter-2-13-2023.docx>

IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO CONTACT YOUR REPRESENTATIVE AND SENATOR ON MAY 7, THAT DOES NOT MEAN YOU CAN'T DO IT IN THE WEEKS BEFORE OR AFTER. SPEAK UP AS GOD CALLS YOU.

Freeing Jesus

By Diana Butler Bass

This intriguing title seems curious. Who knew that Jesus was a captive? But the subtitle of the book helps us understand what Bass has in mind when writing. The subtitle is: Rediscovering Jesus as Friend, Teacher, Savior, Lord, Way, and Presence.

Bass says that some people leave the church to “find” Jesus while others remain in faith communities or return to them because of the orthodox doctrines. Some confine their search to the historical Jesus. Nearly everyone though, often ends up asking the same question — “Who is Jesus, really?”

This book aims to answer that question using Bass’ own story; she writes of “the Jesus of lived experience.” Reading how she has seen, known, and felt Jesus as friend or presence will help you understand and sense Jesus in a new way as you explore his meaning in your own life.

Here’s one of the concluding paragraphs to entice you into checking out this title: “This is the truth of Jesus. That Jesus — the one known intimately as friend and teacher, experienced as Savior and Lord, who guides on the way and inhabits the ordinary — is also the universal Jesus, the welcoming and inclusive Jesus, the Jesus of the circle and in the circle, the all in all.”

Artwork is often used to tell the Bible's stories in pictures. In fact, stained glass windows were initially used in churches to educate people who couldn't read about the Bible. But the purpose of the illuminations in The Saint John's Bible is different. These images are intended to go beyond storytelling and spark your spiritual imagination to obtain a deeper understanding of the Scripture, including the story's context, the feelings of those involved, how you relate to the story, and how the story relates to you.

When viewing an illumination, someone guiding you may ask, "What do you see?" or "What do you wonder?" It can feel uncomfortable to be asked these questions - it changes the focus from "telling you" about the image to "asking you to uncover" what is in the image. The purpose of the questions is not to find THE right answer, because there is no right answer. The purpose is to engage and deepen your understanding of the illuminated scripture.

And you don't have to do this process alone. The larger size of The Saint John's Bible is intended to allow a group of people to view the illuminations together, exchanging what each sees and ideas about possible meaning. Remember that Jesus said, "Where two or more are gathered in my name, I am there among them."

One of the 160+ illuminations of The Saint John's Bible is always on display in the Chapel at Incarnation. Please use this opportunity to stop by with a friend or family member and talk about what you see and what it might mean. There is even a step stool to help children better see the displayed image.

Anyone can guide a conversation about an illumination. You don't have to be a Biblical scholar to enjoy and gain meaning from The Saint John's Bible illuminations. General questions you can ask each other are:

- What do you see? What might it mean?
- What questions do you have about what you see?
- Where do you see God in the illumination? Gold is the usual representation of the divine in the illuminations. How does the gold fit into the story?
- If there are people represented in the illumination, how might they be feeling? If you were in the illumination, how might you be feeling?
- How do you relate to God in this story? How does God relate to you in this story?
